It seems incredible, when we realize that Mexico is just next door to us and that Europe is only 3,000 miles away. Perhaps it is because coffins consume so much ship and train space. Then, why not construct knockdown coffins?

Why Not American Fezes.

"There are $8,000,000 Mohammedan nales in the world, and each wears a fez. What a field that opens to Americans, for a good fez ought to bring $2 if American-made: "Americans are so busy trying to keep clean they seem to have no surplus bath tubs to export. # Will the Turks Be Driven Out of Europe?

With the British and French warships pounding Turkey's fortifications in the Dardanelles a new and, possibly, the most decisive phase of the war is at hand.

If the Allies' fleet should succeed in reaching Constantinople it is asserted that Turkey's powers of resistance would be near an end. The Black Sea would be open to the Allies, and their decisive victory would have a great effect upon the Balkan States.

Will the Great Mosque of St. Sophia Again Resound to the Chant of Christian Hymns After the Lapse of Centuries?

Will the Holy Places of Palestine Be Dominated by Christianity?

How such contingencies fill the imagination!

These and a host of other speculations arise as the world absorbs the news of the bombarding of the Dardanelles. You must read THE LITERARY DIGEST for March 13th and learn all the details of the forcing of these-practically the last strongholds of Mohammedanism in Europe.

But this is only one of the features that will prompt you to buy the DIGEST this week.

Treated in text and picture you will find also the public opinion of America and Europe as reflected in their statesmen's utterances, and in their newspaper press, on the Allies' Embargo on Neutral Imports Into Germany and Austria; America's Attitude Toward Britain's Blockade Declaration; Germany's Answer to Our Protest; the whole subject treated in the most impartial and comprehensive manner.

And to the peaceful pursuits of life this favorite weekly also devotes careful attention. All the important news in those subjects which lie close to humanity-Politics, Science, Invention, Religion, Art, Literature, Music, Drama, Sports, Trade, and Commerce, are presented in captivating style.
